

Washington—If some Senator will reach into a certain filing cabinet of the Senate Agriculture committee he will find a time bomb which will convulse the farm belt.

It is a public document which cost the taxpayers of the country $300,000, but for three months it has been carefully hidden.

The report deals with farm incomes and was compiled by the Federal Trade Commission under a Senate resolution.

Some of the dynamite-loaded facts revealed in the report are:

The first complete and detailed figures ever compiled on the sales, profits and fancy salaries of packing companies, millers and other big firms dealing in farm commodities.

The extraordinary profits made by dealers in farm produce—who were among the most violent foes of the Supreme Court-invalidated AAA.

How grain and cotton speculators manipulated prices on commodity exchanges to the enrichment of themselves and the loss of tens of millions to growers and consumers. These operators also were vehement enemies of the AAA.

Undercover Struggle

The behind-the-scenes struggle of the Trade Commission's struggle to unearth these closely guarded secrets is as remarkable as the facts uncovered. In some cases investigators were met with open defiance and the Commission had to go to the courts to compel the recalcitrants to open their books. In other instances firms produced their accounts only when threatened with citation for contempt of the Senate.

Virtually the entire economic staff of the Commission worked on the report and experts who have seen it rate it as one of the most comprehensive and searching ever compiled by the agency.

Yet, when it was sent to the Senate committee it was ordered impounded and merely a brief summary was released, giving no inkling of the sensational contents.

Chairman of the Agriculture Committee is Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith. When the AAA was in operation, the veteran South Carolinian violently opposed amendments which would have empowered the Agriculture Department to examine the books of the packers, millers and other farm produce processors and dealers.

Note—Senator Smith has five members of his family on the government payroll.

Big Liquor Beggars

The big liquor distillers seem to be having a hard time getting a man to fill the shoes of the late Forbes Morgan, uncle of Mrs. Roosevelt, as czar of the liquor industry.

Jim Farley already had turned the job down. General Hugh Johnson wasn't keen about it, and the other day they offered it—with the accompanying honorarium of $75,000—to Charles Michelson, publicity brains of the Democratic National Committee.

To which Michelson, without a moment's hesitation, replied:

"What in hell would I do with seventy-five thousand dollars?"

Economic Act

Not much has been said about it publicly, but State Department officials, particularly Cordell Hull, are highly pleased at the victory of Norman Davis at the recently concluded International Sugar Conference.

This is the first economic conference in years, regarding sugar or anything else, which has succeeded. Many previous attempts have been made to confer on sugar, all of which failed. This success, Mr. Hull believes, was due partly to the adroit diplomacy of his old Tennessee friend, Norman Davis, partly to the fact that the world is seeing the light of day regarding economic cooperation.

Mr. Hull is a man who believes that big trees from little acorns grow, and it won't be long now before he moves out into wider economic fields.

Power Deal

Henry Wallace's Agricultural Department believes heart and soul in Roosevelt's policy of combatting the big power companies, but so bitter has become the feud between Agriculture and the Interior Department that Henry is now playing into the hands of the power moguls.

This particular row is over the distribution of power from the newly completed Bonneville Dam on the Columbia river. It was originally proposed that the Interior Department, whose PWA built the dam, should distribute the power. Now the Army Engineers have

FIRST PLOW'S ANNIVERSARY IS ARRANGED

Thousands May Trek To Grand Detour For Occasion

Preparations for a mammoth celebration which will bring thousands of persons from all parts of the middle west to Grand Detour on June 25 were completed yesterday at a meeting of Dixon, Oregon and Grand Detour civic leaders at the Nachusa hotel.

On that day a memorial to the memory of Major Leonard Andrus, who 100 years ago founded the steel plow factory which brought Grand Detour its early prosperity, will be dedicated on the site of that factory.

The memorial is being erected by Leonard Andrus III, of Portland, Ore., the grandson of Major Andrus. On June 25 the site, just east of the Black Hawk trail in Grand Detour, will be presented to the J. I. Case Company, of which the original Grand Detour plow works is now a division. The Case company has agreed to landscape the site and give it perpetual care.

The celebration, to be known as the Grand Detour Plow Centennial, will commemorate the beginning of the steel plow industry in America. The dedication program will be broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company as part of its Farm and Home Hour for that day. More than 70 stations will carry the program, focusing international attention upon Dixon and Grand Detour.

A full day's program, with many novel events, has been arranged. A highlight will be the presentation of a peasant by more than fifty Dixon high school boys and girls. It will depict the conquest of the Rock River valley by the pioneers and the drama back of the building of the first plow. Rehearsals will begin next week. The pageant will be directed by Sidney Brees of Chicago, a member of the faculty of the Goodman theater dramatic school, a branch of the Chicago Art Institute.

Band and Speakers
The dedication program will begin promptly at 11:30 A. M. Speakers of international reputation will take part and music will be provided by a famous band. The band also will play during the pageant and give a concert during the day.

In the afternoon a demonstration of the progress of plowing, from the days of the Egyptians to the present, will be presented. A large field has been obtained for this demonstration and many features have been scheduled which will make it intensely interesting to both farmers and city dwellers.

Many former residents of Grand Detour and vicinity will return to the village for the celebration. These old settlers will be guests at a luncheon in the Colonial Inn in Grand Detour at noon.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of Dixon have volunteered to help in handling the huge crowd which is expected to overflow the village. The Boy Scouts will take charge of the parking of automobiles and will set up a first aid tent. The Girl Scouts will set up a nursery and playground where mothers may

EDITORIAL

THE START OF THE STEEL PLOW INDUSTRY

It is a very interesting fact that the start of the steel plow industry, an invention that revolutionized farming and made possible the opening and development of the vast and incredibly rich area of farming lands stretching across America from the Appalachians to the Rockies, occurred right here at Grand Detour, a pioneer settlement almost as old as Dixon, on our own Rock River only six miles away. Here in Grand Detour was born an industry which has endured for more than one hundred years and has made possible the production of food for the multitudes that people the earth. Without the steel plow the vast population that now lives on this globe would be brought to almost immediate famine and millions would perish of hunger.

And on June 25 the centennial of this major invention which has had so much to do with the progress of civilization and which enables the teeming millions of earthlings to get that fundamental necessity, food, will be celebrated in manner fitting its importance at the scene of its birth, Grand Detour. That day will be great in the annals of Illinois and the middle-west and its reverberations should be world-wide.

One hundred years ago a certain easterner named Leonard Andrus came to Dixon—then just a ferry crossing and a trading post in an Indian infested country. He talked to Father John Dixon and said he was looking for a place to settle and make his home and that the location must meet ideals he had in mind. Father Dixon told him he knew just the location he wanted, a spot up Rock River where the stream made a great circle, almost meeting itself, and the following day an Indian guide was engaged and he paddled Leonard Andrus in a canoe to the place that now is known as Grand Detour. Mr. Andrus lost no time in making up his mind that here was the place he had been looking for and after a trip back east he took up land in the Grand Detour territory and induced friends from the east to come here and make their homes.

A serious complication arose when the farmers from New England tried to turn the soil of the rich Illinois prairies and bottom lands with the cast-iron plows they had been using back east. On the rocky slopes of the Atlantic sea-board the sandy soil could be worked with the cast-iron plows but the rich and heavy black loam of the middle-west was unworkable. It could be turned once, these pioneer farmers found, but not ever again. The cast-iron plow would not "scour", the soil stuck to it and gathered on it until it was useless. Friends of Pioneer Andrus said they were about to give up and go back east. They would leave the richest soil they ever saw because they had no means of working it. Andrus asked them to wait until he had a chance to study the problem. He experimented with steel saw blades from the Andrus sawmill at Grand Detour and he found that he had solved the problem because steel would "scour" as it passed through the soil.

Mr. Andrus had a very close friend in Grand Detour named Amos Bosworth. (Familiar names we are dealing with here because Pioneer Bosworth was the grandfather of our own beloved Amos Bosworth of Dixon and Leonard Andrus' son built the southern-type colonial home in north Dixon which is now the Masonic temple through the gift of Col. Wm. B. Brinton, another great Dixon plow-maker, and Lex Andrus, the grandson of Grand Detour's father of the steel plow is staying in Dixon now and planning to erect a monument to his illustrious grandfather at Grand Detour, to be unveiled on June 25th.) But to get back to the first Amos Bosworth, Andrus knew what he wanted done and he told friend Bosworth that he needed a good blacksmith. Bosworth had operated a stage line in New England before he came to Grand Detour and he told friend Andrus that the man who had been his blacksmith on his stage line, John Deere by name, was a capable blacksmith and a letter brought Deere to Grand Detour. Under Plow-builder Andrus' direction and with his help, John Deere forged the first Grand Detour plow. L. Andrus and Co. not only fathered this plow but kept alive an industry that has grown without a lapse for a century and now flourishes more resplendently than ever as the Grand Detour plow division of the J. I. Case Company of Racine, Wis., Dixon, Rockford and Moline, Ill. During its rise and development Plow-Pioneer Andrus had various partners, among them Grand Detour's first Amos Bosworth, Dixon's late Theron Cummins whose descendants are Dixon citizens. When the Chicago and Northwestern railroad missed Grand Detour (some say because Grandy's residents did not want the new-fangled, noisy nuisance) and came through Dixon, Leonard Andrus moved the Grand Detour Plow Co. to Dixon and started erection of the manufacturing plant which now covers several acres and is extensive in its scope. (Soon to be operating full blast again we hear.) Until 1919 it operated as an integral unit and attained world-wide fame for its highly superior plows, progressing with the times from the old-time single horse drawn implement to the modern, tractor-drawn gang plow. Wherever the better plows were to be found the Grand Detour has always been in the foremost ranks. Sounds like an advertisement but is merely an editorial acknowledgement of the real merit and success, an almost unbelievable success, of one man's ingenuity, intelligence and enterprise. We refer to Leonard Andrus, that first citizen of Grand Detour, who was such a great benefactor to humankind. Of course Number 1 Plowmaker Andrus would be the first to give the proper credit to those associates who aided him in his original project and who joined with him to carry on his plow manufacturing, but Andrus conceived the idea and to him must go the credit for founding the first plow manufacturing project which was sound enough and produced a plow good enough to endure. And it has endured for more than one hundred years and must endure while man inhabits this earth.

So after all, it is not surprising that June 25th, at Grand Detour, will occur a celebration of the first magnitude.

LEADERS WANT RELIEF FUNDS REALLOCATED

Ask Administration Be Given Freedom To Disburse

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—House leaders urged their colleagues today to reverse their tentative decision to set aside one-third of the proposed $1,500,000,000 relief fund for roads, dams and other special purposes.

They asked that the administration be given a free hand in disbursing the money, quoting President Roosevelt's comment that every dollar earmarked for other purposes meant fewer jobs for persons on relief.

Participants in yesterday's revolt to allocate $505,000,000 for special expenditures, however, showed no disposition to yield.

Representatives Beiter (D-N.Y.), Starnes (D-Ala.) and Cartwright (D-Okla.) joined in a letter urging members who voted for the Armament amendments to "stay put, because pressure may be brought to bear."

Because of the annual memorial service in the house this afternoon, the final test of strength was postponed until tomorrow.

Rep. Woodrum (D-Va.) said that before a vote was taken on the relief bill as a whole, he would demand another vote on each of the Armament proposals. A majority could overturn yesterday's decisions.

Amounts Follow

The amounts tentatively set apart follow:

$45,000,000 for flood control.

$300,000,000 for the public works administration.

$150,000,000 for highway construction and grade crossing elimination.

$10,000,000 for building small lakes and ponds in the great plains, scene of recent drought.

The debate brought a warning from Rep. Boland (D-Pa.) of a possible presidential veto if the earmarked funds were retained in the bill. Cries of "pork barrel" also were heard.

"Pork barrel" is a term applied to a bill providing money to be spent in the home districts of many Congressmen.

Administration chieftains protested against all the amendments diverting funds.

"This is a relief bill," said Majority Leader Rayburn (D-Tex.). "If we earmark these amounts, we'll do great harm and destroy some of the great relief program already under way."

Corn Price Highest In Seventeen Years

Chicago, May 26.—(AP)—A last minute "squeeze" in the corn market today skyrocketed the price of May corn more than 5 cents a bushel to $1.40, highest price for any corn contract in 17 years.

Although "longs" in May corn, those holding contracts for delivery of the grain before the end of the month, could have demanded a full 8 cents hoist in the value, they rushed to accept their profits within seconds of the final bell, selling out at around $1.40.

It was the most sensational windup of trading in a grain contract on the Board of Trade in many months. Trading in May corn in the futures pit has ended but sellers have three days in which to make delivery.

Mrs. Frank Spiller Rites on Saturday

The funeral of Mrs. Frank Spiller, who passed away Tuesday morning at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital, will be held at the First Christian church at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Rev. James A. Barnett, pastor, officiating with burial in Oakwood cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Spiller will arrive from Florida Friday to attend the rites. Members of Minnie Bell lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, will meet at their hall at 1 o'clock to attend the services in a body.

French Aviators Forced To Land On Japan Coast

Tokyo, May 26.—(AP)—The Japanese (Domei) news agency reported today that the French aviators, Marcel Doret and Francois Michel, made a forced landing along the Tobara coast in Kochi prefecture at 7:30 p. m. tonight (5:30 a. m. CST.).

Both were slightly injured and taken to a hospital at Kochi. Sitokoku Island airport. They were attempting a Paris-Tokyo flight.

"NEW DILLINGER GANG" ROB BANK AND AMBUSH POLICE

Mrs. Leona Hamilton, assistant cashier of the Goodland (Ind.) State Bank, is shown at a small safe in cage where she and R. Lyle, a bank director were held by a gang of robbers said to be the one called the "new Dillinger gang" led by Al Brady alias John Barton, while the robbers raided the bank taking $25,000 yesterday. The gang later ambushed a state policeman and deputy sheriff who had overtaken them in their flight, and wounded both officers, one fatally, with machine-gun fire.

Contract to Complete Brooklyn Spur Is Let To Zolpers, Mendota

Lowest of Six Bids Accepted by Road, Bridge Committee

Henry Zolper & Sons of Mendota, submitted the low bid and were awarded the contract for the completion of the West Brooklyn spur, at a meeting of the road and bridge committee of the Lee county Board of Supervisors at the court house today. Six firms submitted bids, that of the Mendota firm being the lowest.

Work is to be started on grading the extension, a distance of one and one-half miles, which will connect with state route No. 71 when completed. The contract provides for the grading of the right of way, the construction of two concrete bridges, a ten foot cement slab and 16 foot gravel right of way, which will make the road 26 feet wide. The spur will be completed this summer under the supervision of Fred W. Leake, county superintendent of highways. Charles K. Willett of this city being the resident engineer.

The bid of the Zolper firm was $52,284.22, the others being as follows: Gund & Graham, Freeport, $53,045.71; Walsh Oil Co., Joliet, $53,474.35; P. F. Weir Construction Co., Moline, $52,715.84; Ray Mann Construction Co., Rockford, $53,596.95 and Clarence F. Settle, Moline, $58,230.94.

About three miles of the Brooklyn spur has been constructed under two contracts, and the roadway will be completed this summer, giving West Brooklyn an outlet north to connect with state route 71, which is to be completed this year. This spur is being constructed from state gasoline tax refunds to Lee county.

Contract Let for Paving at Ashton

At a meeting of the village board of Ashton held last evening, the contract for the construction of a new cement roadway, which will lead south from the Lincoln Highway to the Ashton cemetery, was awarded. Seven contractors submitted bids for the 1,500 foot stretch of paving which is to be 18 feet in width. The Roy Mann Construction Co. of Rockford was awarded the contract, the bid being $9,240.64. Work is to be started at an early date. Charles K. Willett of this city has been retained by the village of Ashton as supervising engineer of the improvement.

Five Funeral Party Members Injured; Truck Collision

Poplar Grove, Ill., May 26.—(AP)—Five members of a funeral party returning from a cemetery at Capron were recovering today from injuries suffered last night when their automobile collided with a truck loaded with iron.

Mrs. Alvina Thrush, owner of a hardware store here and daughter of the late Henry Olson, 83, whose funeral party had attended, was the most seriously hurt. The truck was driven by Harold Flemming of Rockford.

BANK ROBBER GANG TERMED WORST KNOWN

Goodland Mobsters Outdistancing Dillinger

Indianapolis, May 26.—(AP)—State Police Captain Matt Leach warned today that three fugitive Brady mobsters, whom he blamed for a $2,500 bank robbery at Goodland and the wounding of two officers, "may make Dillinger's gang look like neophytes."

He urged bankers in small mid-west communities to guard against possible future forays of the will-o'-wisp gunmen—Al Brady, Clarence Lee Shaffer, Jr., and James Doliver—long sought for two killings and several midwest jewelry and bank robberies.

"These men are desperate and kill-crazy," Leach declared. "They will stop at nothing."

Overnight, the police of Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan investigated numerous tips of the fugitives' whereabouts, but the trail grew cold.

"Although they have disappeared temporarily, they will show their hand again sooner or later," Leach predicted. "When they do we'll be ready for them."

The last victim of the bandits' ruthless gunfire, State Policeman Paul Minneman, 33, was in critical condition at a Logansport hospital. He received blood transfusions during the night, and physicians termed the fight to save him as "almost hopeless."

Sheriff Recovering
Cass County Deputy Sheriff Elmer Craig, 45, who with Minneman was shot down shortly after the bank robbery yesterday, was reported in improved condition. His wounds were less serious.

Leach ordered a general watch at physicians' offices for the state after receiving a report that one bandit had been wounded in the battle with Minneman and Craig. Leach said the state laboratory was testing a rusty-colored substance found on a bush near where the gunmen stood.

He recalled that the Brady gang killed Police Sergeant Richard Rivers here April 27, 1936, while attempting to get medical aid for a wounded member. Six days before Edward Linsey, Piqua, O., grocery clerk, was killed in a robbery, and Ohio authorities blamed the Bradymen.

Leach asserted the bandits had been responsible for midwest hold-ups in which more than $100,000 loot was obtained in the past two years.

Dillinger Doctor Freed, Embezzling Complaint Invalid

Chicago, May 26.—(AP)—Dr. William Loesser, 55, whose plastic surgery on the faces of John Dillinger and Homer Van Meter cost him four years in prison, was released in felony court today when an embezzlement complaint was held invalid.

The ruling by Judge Frank M. Padden, voiding the complaint under the statute of limitations made the doctor an absolutely free man for the first time in years.

Dr. Loesser was charged with taking and failing to pay for or return drugs valued at $899, the property of Mrs. Elsie B. Fritz, widow of a druggist.

The record showed the doctor allegedly received the drugs in December, 1930, the statute of limitation expired in 1933 and the warrant was not obtained until December, 1934.

Eckener Angling For Relaxation Of Helium Monopoly

Washington, May 26.—(AP)—Germany's quest for a non-inflammable dirigible gas led today to the Senate military committee, which was considering President Roosevelt's endorsement of legislation to permit greater helium exports.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, Germany's foremost rigid airship authority, appealed for passage of the measure.

leave their children while attending the program.

The Dixon Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee to direct the decoration of Dixon streets for the celebration, which advance arrangements indicate will be one of the greatest ever staged in the Rock River valley.

While the first steel plow was made near Lockport, Ill., about 1833, it was not until Major Andrus and John Deere in 1837, built a steel plow at Grand Detour that a permanent steel plow industry was founded. The first plow works was headed by Major Andrus, with Mr. Deere forging the steel plows in his shop. Several years later the company became known as Andrus & Deere.

In 1848 Mr. Deere withdrew from the company and moved to Moline, where he established his own implement factory. Mr. Andrus continued the original plow works, sometimes with partners and sometimes by himself, until his death in 1867.

Refused Railroad

In the middle fifties the citizens of Grand Detour made the decision which cost the town its industrial life. Fearing that the railroad, then extending westward, would take away their industries or divide it among other communities, they refused to let it come in.

The railroad, therefore, went through Dixon instead. For many years the plow works remained at Grand Detour, but after Major Andrus' death the factory was moved to Dixon in order that its operators could take advantage of the shipping facilities. It continued to be known as the Grand Detour Plow Works, however, until 1919, when it became a division of the J. I. Case company.

The group which met yesterday to discuss plans is known as the hospitality committee and is composed of Mayor William Slothower, President Charles Miller of the Chamber of Commerce, J. B. Lennon, Sheriff Ward Miller, John L. Davies, George Shaw, Ed Valie, Amos Bosworth, of Dixon, John Nolf of Grand Detour and Charles D. Etnyre and F. L. Einswiler of Oregon.

DAILY HEALTH

By DR. IAGO GALDSTON
Suntanning: I

The art in sun bathing lies in acquiring a tan without suffering sunburn. This can be attained by exercising a certain amount of self-control and by observing a few simple rules of precaution.

These regulations may be summarized as follows:

Take your sun bathing in small doses; tan slowly. Specifically, one should not sun bathe very long between the hours of 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. in midsummer. Healthy persons not accustomed to sun bathing should never expose themselves for more than 15 minutes at first. They may increase the exposure five minutes daily during the next two weeks.

Begin by exposing the feet to a few inches above the ankles for five minutes. On subsequent days progressively increase the body surface exposed to the knees, hips, middle of abdomen and chest. Each new body portion should receive five minutes initial exposure, while the previously exposed parts receive five minutes additional sun bathing. On the fifth day all the body will have been initiated. The feet will receive 25 minutes of sun bathing, and the remaining segments each five minutes less.

When one has acquired a good protective coat of tan, one may sun bathe for two or three hours. Anyone suffering from disease of the heart, the blood vessels, the lungs or the kidneys should consult his own physician for specific instruction before undertaking a course of sun baths.

While the sun and the time element are primary determinants in tanning, there is a third element to be considered — one's capacity to acquire a tan. Not all persons can tan, or tan equally as well. Blondes, for example, burn more quickly than they tan. Some blondes will freckle instead of developing an evenly bronzed skin. A freckle is, after all, but a small tan spot, deeper and usually more persistent than the summer tan.

There are some individuals called albinos who lack pigment in their skin. Such individuals usually have pink colored eyes, colorless hair and a pearl-white skin. Albinos of course always must protect themselves against strong light.

The head should be protected by some form of headgear and it is wise to wear dark glasses, particularly while sun bathing on the seashore. The sand and water reflect large amounts of both the visible and the ultraviolet rays of the spectrum.

DUKE INVITES 26 GUESTS FOR JUNE WEDDING

Includes Officials of British Realm Also Personal Friends

Monts, France, May 26—(AP)—Sixteen wedding guests, several of them holding British official positions, were announced today for the June 3 marriage of the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield by Herman L. Rogers, their American spokesman.

The guests include Hugh Lloyd Thomas, first secretary of the British embassy in Paris; Sir Walter T. Monckton, attorney general of the Duchy of Cornwall; and Lady Walford Selby, wife of the British minister at Vienna.

Major E. B. Metcalfe, who will attend with Lady Alexandra Metcalfe, will be the Duke of Windsor's best man. The major is the Duke's equerry.

Rogers would not comment on the fact that of 30 invitations sent out, only 16 acceptances were received.

Some persons close to the Chateau de Candé, where the wedding will take place, also attached significance to the fact that Lady Selby will attend without her husband, the minister to Austria. However, others pointed to the acceptance of Thomas, another British diplomat.

Other Guests Listed

There have been reports that the British government held out to the last against the attendance of Sir Walford Selby, despite the Duke of Windsor's pleadings. Sir Walford was one of Edward's confidantes during his self-exile last winter in Austria.

Baron and Baroness Eugene de Rothschild, owners of the Enzenfeld castle where Windsor stayed during the first part of his Austrian wait.

Mrs. D. Buchanan Merryman, Mrs. Warfield's "Aunt Bessie", from Washington.

Charles E. Bedaux and Mrs. Bedaux, of New York, owners of the Chateau de Candé.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Graham, He is British consul at Nantes.

A. G. Allen of London, the Duke's attorney.

Dudley Forwood, an equerry of the Duke.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers of New York.

CARDINAL MUNDELEIN'S DECLARATION

Cardinal Mundelein's declaration in relation to the German dictatorship and the German Catholic church is of general interest. After reference to the vicious things Nazi government propagandists had said about the Catholic clergy, Cardinal Mundelein said:

"The fight is to take the children away from us. If we show no interest in this matter now, if we shrug our shoulders and mutter, well, maybe there is some truth in it, or that it is not our fight; if we don't back up the Holy Father when we have a chance; well, when our turn comes, too, we'll be fighting alone."

"Perhaps you will ask how it is that a nation of 60,000,000 people, intelligent people, will submit in fear and servitude to an alien, an Austrian paper hanger and a poor one at that, I am told, and a few associates like Goebbels and Goering, who dictate every move of the people's lives; who can, in this age of rising prices and necessary high cost of living, say to an entire nation, 'Wages can not be raised.'"

He answered the question by saying that it is done by making every second person a government spy, by destroying civil liberties, and forcing youthful candidates for religious life into work and military camps.

"Never before was the church of Germany as helpless as it is today," said the Cardinal. "Not even in the days of the kulturkampf. Then they had their leaders, lay and clerical, then they had a Catholic press."

"Today the church is voiceless. When the bishops speak, their words are drowned by the noise of the government. Cardinal Mundelein is accepting notice that religion is on the run in countries under dictatorships. He is accepting the facts rather than the theory that 'It can't happen here,' among intelligent people. He says it happens by making every second person a government spy and by destroying civil liberties."

"Intelligence" of people does not count in the circumstances. People are held under control by force and by interest. They are controlled by the bayonet or by bribes. The bayonet is force, the bribe is interest. We have not yet come to the bayonet in this country or to the firing squad, which is the same thing, but we have come to the first stage, where millions of intelligent people are willing to give up their liberties for a temporary profit.

If there are those who wonder, as the Cardinal indicated, how 60 million "intelligent" people can be suppressed by one ruler, they need only to look around them to see how readily intelligent persons will exchange liberty for a present profit and take chances on ever having their liberty restored or of ever desiring its restoration.

Every person who desires religious liberty should make himself felt now. Every person who desires freedom of speech should guard jealously the right every day. Every person who desires freedom of the press should remember that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

These rights were obtained at a high cost and they will be retained only by vigilance, if not by paying gain the price.

Religion is on the run. Freedom of speech is on the run. Freedom of the press is on the run. What are we going to do about it?

"WE'RE ALL TOGETHER NOW."

One of the really funny happenings in politics is the fate of Congressman Arthur Mitchell, Chicago negro.

Since its birth the Republican party has been the guardian of the rights of the negro, and has preserved them to the extent that has been practical. Almost that long also the negro race has been loyal to the party that was instrumental in giving it freedom.

It always appeared that there was something out of order when a negro became an out and out democrat. The negro might vote for a friend or a local political power under pressure, but he maintained his party relationship with the party that gave him freedom, with the party that never was able to elect a governor or a congressman in a southern state, because of the "nigger question" always brought to the fore by the democrats.

Then there came the process of buying up our votes with our own money. Whites are susceptible to it. Blacks are susceptible to it. Corrupt democratic machines hold the powers in nearly all our metropolitan centers, and there is where the colored population is greatest.

Out of all this emerged Arthur Mitchell, negro democrat, Chicagoan, as a congressman.

"We're all together now," Mitchell must have said to himself as he started southward in a Pullman car, with an Arkansas city as his destination. Certainly a respectable negro congressman would not be molested in the south—if he votes the right ticket.

But he was.

Anybody who has heard the Kingfish sputtering, "Now, boys, you can't do that, I've de kingfish of de lodge, you know," probably has a more or less accurate idea of Congressman Arthur Mitchell when he told the trainmen they couldn't make him leave the Pullman and ride in a Jim Crow car, which they did.

A negro democrat is a paradox, but a negro democratic congressman trying to ride a Pullman car in the solid south is a pair of paradoxes.

stepped in and claimed the job. And the Agriculture Department, its eye fixed upon the goal of keeping everything away from the Interior, has made a deal to boost the cause of the Army. In return, the Army is to boost the cause of Henry Wallace in taking over various conservation agencies from Ickes.

Army Game

What Wallace and his boys have forgotten, however, is that the Army has been notorious in the past for its sub-rosa deals with the big power interests. Army Engineers helped Hoover and Coolidge sabotage the Tennessee Valley. Army Engineers, in many cases, have resigned to take important executive jobs with the power companies.

And it was the Army which was recommended, under cover, by the power companies to take over accounts of the Federal Power Commission in order to okay the padded capitalization they were trying to put across on the public.

If they get control of Bonneville Dam, the Army Engineers will have the job of distributing its vast wealth of power to whomever they choose, at whatever terms they choose.

A wife may now desert her husband and children without committing a misdemeanor but a wife deserter is very properly jailed—if he can be caught. The same should apply to a wife. CROP OUTLOOK IS ROSIEST IN FOUR SEASONS

Conditions Spotty But Prospect of Drouth Fades

Chicago, May 26 — (AP) — The American farm crop picture was painted today in brighter, more optimistic tints, generally speaking, than a year ago on the eve of the great 1936 drouth.

A survey of the broad mid-continental agricultural belt showed that normal weather experience would make possible the harvest of good crops in most regions and that only in a few important producing areas in the west are timely and abundant rains vital within the next few crucial weeks to erase farmers' fears of a third serious drouth in four years.

Many farm lands where vegetation withered in 1934 and again in 1936 have had heavy rains this spring and crop indications in these localities were reported the best in years. Ironically, moisture has been so plentiful in some sections in the Great Lakes and Ohio and Mississippi valley regions that field work and the crop start have been seriously delayed.

Elsewhere, soil lacks the fortification of enough sub surface moisture reserve to tide vegetation through the hot, dry summer days likely to come, the survey showed. Observers fear that in these regions serious losses are possible unless nearly ideal weather prevails.

Crop prospects as a whole, therefore, are considered very spotty, perhaps more so than in many years. Conditions vary widely within states. A dry June may be needed in one locality whereas 100 miles distant heavy moisture is urgent. Weather reports indicated that within the last few days moisture relief has been spreading into less favored territory, altering the outlook in many districts.

Anything Possible
Anything can happen, particularly in less favored regions, crop experts agreed, with the entire summer ahead. A year ago, farmers had little intimation that devastating drouth was in the offing. It was not until mid-June and later that the pulse of soaring farm commodity prices quickened as crop prospects began to fade.

Drouth conditions exist in sections of the west where moisture deficiency has been chronic the

BARNETT GIVES MEMORIAL DAY TALK TO LIONS

History of Holiday And Its Significance Related

The Dixon Lions Club held their regular weekly luncheon and meeting Tuesday at the Nachusa Hotel. First Vice President Lion Lancaster presided. There was an excellent membership attendance.

Following are extracts from the address given by Rev. James A. Barnett, on "History and Significance of Memorial Day."

"From most ancient times men have symbolized truths and events and ideals that have meant most to them. We may see in many parts of the world the remains of ancient temples, tombs and obelisks which memorialized things held valuable by peoples in those far distant ages. Peoples and nations have long perpetuated the memory of important events in their history. No method of impressing the value of certain events like the observance of a day, has yet been found."

Originated in South

"Memorial Day, which again approaches, is filled with deepest feeling and tender emotions. It had its origin in the South closely following the close of the Civil War. It was at first scatteringly observed among several of the Southern states. National prominence was given the idea through the unselfish and noble action of a group of Southern women who went forth to decorate the graves of their beloved dead of the Confederate army that had so recently fallen in battle. But in their ministry of affection, they made no distinction, decorating with impartiality the graves of friend and foe alike. This fine and chivalrous act caught the imagination of a writer who immortalized it in the beautiful poem 'Under the Sod and the Dew', published in the Atlanta Constitution, and which we as boys in the old red school house learned to love and on occasion recite at public gatherings."

"On May 5, 1868, Gen. John A. Logan, then National Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic issued an order appointing May 30 as the day in which memorial services would be held and graves of fallen soldiers of the North, decorated. The choice of the day was perhaps due to the fact that it was on that day that the last volunteer soldier of the Northern Armies was mustered out. This day was soon adopted by all of the northern states, while the South still observed other days for such purposes. It is still observed by authority of the state and has not been made a national holiday. Since the organization of the American Legion following the World War, they have adopted the day as a national observance and by force of custom May 30 is taking its place as a national holiday."

Before 1836 inventors had to obtain full approval of the president's cabinet to get a patent.

Important Day
"Thus the day has grown to be one of the most important in our national life. It is no longer sectional or partial, but the heroic dead of all wars are honored."

"This day is a meaningful observance. It symbolizes a nation's gratitude to its defenders and saviors. It links us definitely to the past. We have a backward look which shows the way we have come and reveals the price others, who have gone before us have paid in order that we might enjoy the blessings of liberty. The proper observance of this day helps to conserve that which is richest and most dear in our national life."

"There is a mighty appeal to the heart in the proper observance of Memorial Day. Ceremony appeals to the heart. Ceremony may be said to be poetry in action. Through it the altar fires of the heart are kindled and made to glow. The nation and humanity reach nobler heights only when impelled by the heart."

The speaker paid tender tribute to the Civil War veterans, whose ranks are now so badly depleted, in their great service they have rendered by keeping before the public eye the real values of our American democracy. He closed with an example of heroism and loyalty brought from Civil War days in the stirring poem, 'Little Giffon of Tennessee' by Dr. Tichenor, which he read with great appeal.

CITIZENS ASKED TO BUY POPPIES FOR DISABLED

Poppies by the millions are blooming in veterans' hospitals and convalescent workrooms in every part of the country as disabled veterans of the World War are making the flowers with which America will honor its war dead on Poppy day, Saturday, May 29. The flowers are shaped from crepe paper and wire in replica of the wild poppies of France and Belgium that grew in such profusion on the World war battle fields.

Fully 12,000,000 poppies will be required for Poppy day this year, according to Mrs. Ione Thompson, poppy chairman of the local American Legion auxiliary unit. Millions have been completed and many thousands more are being produced every day. The work is being conducted in 65 hospitals and workrooms in 40 states.

Employment is being given to hundreds of the disabled men who are drawing little or no government compensation and are unable to do other work. Men with families to support receive preference. The program is directed by the state organizations of the auxiliary and co-ordinated through the national organization.

The poppies will be distributed by volunteer workers from the auxiliary on Poppy day, the Saturday before Memorial Day. Worn in honor of the war dead, the little red flowers of remembrance also will aid the living victims of the war, explained Mrs. Thompson. Contributions received for them will help support the work of the American Legion and auxiliary for the disabled veterans and fatherless children of veterans.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO ROCKEFELLER PAID AT ESTATE

Family, Friends, Relatives Present For Funeral Rites

Tarrytown, N. Y., May 26 — (AP) — In the quiet peace of his Pocantico Hills estate, descendants and old family friends of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., paid final tribute today to the one-time world's richest man.

As simple funeral rites marked his passing activities of the international "oil empire" he founded were suspended throughout the world for five minutes out of respect for his memory. The services, as planned by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor of the Riverside Baptist church in New York, which the aged capitalist-philanthropist built, consisted of prayer, scriptural reading and organ rendition of some of his favorite hymns. These included "Abide With Me," "Sun of My Soul, Thou Saviour Dear," and "Sunset and Evening Star."

At the same time, in New York City, the famous "Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial Carillon," dedicated to Rockefeller's wife, played a special recital of hymns concluding with "Lead, Kindly Light."

The services at Pocantico Hills began at 9 a. m. (CST).

OFFICIALS AND HORNER ATTEND DUNNE SERVICE

Legislature Adjourns; Also City Offices and Courts

Chicago, May 26 — (AP) — Scores of public officials, headed by Gov. Henry Horner, paid their last respects at the funeral today of Edward F. Dunne, former governor of Illinois and one-time mayor of Chicago, who died Monday at the age of 83.

Members of the state legislature, the city council and judges of virtually all branches of the courts attended the services, set for 10 A. M. in St. Mary's of the Lake church.

Both houses of the legislature adjourned at Springfield yesterday so that members could attend the funeral. The city council was to hold a brief meeting at 9 A. M. and then adjourn to attend the services with Mayor Kelly.

"Worth" Praised

Before adjourning the legislature adopted a joint memorial resolution describing the "inestimable worth" of Dunne's services of the people of Illinois.

At the request of members of the family there will be no police, fire department or military escort for the funeral cortege. Because his friends and associates in public life were so numerous, the family also decided against the naming of honorary pallbearers.

Active pallbearers will be six grandsons, Edward F. III, Harry P. and Maurice Dunne, Jr. and Edward D., William J., and Stuart Corboy.

Dunne, who occupied the majority office from 1905 to 1907 and the governor's mansion from 1913 to 1917, will be buried in Calvary cemetery.

He is survived by nine children. His wife died in 1928.

LONGSHOREMEN WOULD BATTLE CIO EXTENSION

A. F. of L. Indicates Assistance Is Forthcoming

Cincinnati, May 26 — (AP) — Joseph P. Ryan, president of the longshoremen's union, sought united American Federation of Labor action on the Atlantic coast waterfront today to prevent the spread of CIO activity.

Contending that John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization and Communists were closely linked in their seaport activities, Ryan went before the A. F. of L. executive council to try to settle numerous jurisdictional disputes that have hampered the federation waterfront unions in their efforts to combat the Lewis movement.

As the first move in his anti-Lewis program, Ryan threatened to call strikes against all ships that employed radio operators belonging to the radio telegraphists association, a CIO union. Ryan said this union was strictly communistic.

The waterfront unions have been beset by division for several years. First, all of the Pacific coast unions but the longshoremen broke away from their international unions several years ago to form the maritime federation of the Pacific. The west coast longshoremen, led by Harry Bridges of San Francisco, remained with the national union in name only.

Union Divided
Last fall the international seamen's union on the Atlantic coast divided, with a left-wing section claiming to represent the majority of the seamen. This section eventually formed the national maritime union which has been dickering for CIO membership.

"Every A. F. of L. union on the waterfront faces a dual union movement," Ryan told delegates to the A. F. of L. loyal union conference here. "It's high time we settled our own differences and set in to defeat this gang of reds."

Other principal issues to face the council:

(1) Whether to endorse President Roosevelt's minimum wage, maximum hours and child labor bill.

(2) How to manage the "co-ordinated" organization campaigns directed by the conference in view of the opposition to direct war on Lewis voted by a considerable block of delegates.

Considerable division has developed in A. F. of L. ranks as to how the federation should proceed with its organization campaign.

Green indicated he intended to fight the CIO directly with rival unions in some cases.

Another group's spokesmen said the federation should try to retain its supremacy by organizing the unorganized, but should not move into Lewis' territory. Daniel Tobin, president of the teamsters' (truck drivers) union, warned the conference that his organization would not contribute double dues to try to take from the Lewis movement members who had not been organized before the CIO campaign started.

Lewis Unconcerned
Lewis, in New York, expressed little concern over the council's plan to combat his organization.

Terming the conference "merely a council of desperation," he predicted many unions would refuse to pay the additional assessments and declared "in any event, the amount the Federation proposes to raise is insignificant as compared with the financial resources of the great industrial unions which are members of the CIO."

Green indicated he intended to fight on all fronts by saying:

"There are men in mass production industries appealing for admission to the American Federation of Labor now. Up to this time, I have said no. But the clock has struck and the hour is here. We are going to give them a home in the American Federation of Labor if they will come in."

Some observers regarded this as meaning, among other things, that the application of the Progressive Miners of America for a charter would be received favorably. The Progressives have been a bitter rival of Lewis' United Mine Workers in Illinois for several years.

POLO NEWS

By KATHRYN KEAGY
POLO — Clifford Boddiger was badly bruised when he fell twenty feet from a barn roof on the Minto O'Kane farm, southwest of Polo Tuesday, where the Purcell Contracting crew was working. He was brought to his home in Polo, and examination found that there were no bones broken, but that he was shaken up considerably.

LETTER FROM ENGLAND

Mrs. E. E. Shaw, Publisher of The Telegraph, Tells of Pre-Coronation Visit in England

ANOTHER LETTER

Oxford, May 8, 1937

We reached Oxford in time for dinner and as soon as we refreshed ourselves immediately set out to see a little of the famous college town. The streets were crowded with bare-headed Oxford youths, and the town was gay with coronation decorations. We will stay here until Monday, reaching London for luncheon on that day. The members of the English S. U. will all be together. Each one has a reserved seat for May 12th. We will have to be in our seats by 7 A. M. and in order to dress, have breakfast and reach our seats, we will be obliged to get up at 4 A. M. We will be under shelter so in the event of rain it will not disturb us. We will likely be in our seats all day long. We do not care how long the day is, so great are our expectations.

Last night was spent at the White Snow hotel in Stratford-on-Avon. 'Tis old, of the 15th century, and truly had that atmosphere. We were guests, forty-one of us, at the new Shakespearean theatre. It is a pity the old one burned for this is entirely different and does not carry the charm of the original one. It was designed by a mere slip of a girl or 18 or 20 years. The inside, as well as the outside, is modernistic. We saw the play "King Lear" and we enjoyed it so very much. The stage was a series of steps at different angles. They appeared to be covered with velvet and when the lights were turned upon them they were of different hues, such marvelous colors. Some would be red, some gold, some blue, all blending so beautifully. There was no stage scenery, just a curtain, which you could not detect, representing ever moving clouds.

The acting was perfect. The curtain applause must have pleased the performers greatly, especially the star, "King Lear."

After this nice diversion we were taken to the home of the English Speaking Union to a reception and received by Lady Flowers who is president of the E. S. U. We were up early this morning to visit the birthplace of Shakespeare, which was built by his father in 1552. Do you remember the room where every available space even the glass panes in the window are autographed with now famous names?

Shakespeare was only 18 when he was married, and father of three children at 22. We had to be back to the White Snow by 11:30 so we hurriedly walked to the Collegiate church in which Shakespeare is buried. The slab that covers his grave bears the date of 1616 A. D. By his side is his wife. She died in 1623. The church was built in 1200. The door to the front entrance, of old English oak, has been in use since 1420, and a knocker thereon bears the date of 1260. One can scarcely believe that anything could last so long. At home I brag about The Telegraph being 88 years old, but that would be an infant in arms over here.

The Avon is a pretty stream upon which numberless swans glide along, so gently. This was our last view of Stratford-on-Avon, and a truly beautiful one.

We partook of luncheon at Broadway. That sounds like New York. It was peaceful rural English.

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN

POET WHO DENIED THE DEVIL

BORN a pastor's son, Bjornstjerne Bjornson defied his church when, at the height of his popularity, he denied the existence of the devil. This tall, domineering personality, with gray leonine head of hair, was chief poet and novelist of his native country of Norway, and equal as a dramatist to his famous contemporary, Ibsen.

Born in 1832, he entered the University of Christiania, and soon became a journalist and dramatic critic. Then came his novels, poems and dramas which, in 1903, won for him the Nobel prize in literature.

When he came to this country, about 1890, on a lecture tour, he expressed himself so freely on religion, and on the ways of his own countrymen in America, that he returned to Norway richer in the money he received for his appearances, but poorer in public esteem. Nevertheless, when he died in 1910, at the age of 78, he was given a state funeral and was glorified for his advancement of Norwegian literature.

In 1932, on the centenary of his birth, Norway issued a set of stamps bearing his portrait and signature.

Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

High above the sidewalks of old New York a big time racketeer ordered a small pent house built to be used as headquarters for operations of his gang. Two carpenters were engaged to work on the construction. One of them said he could finish the job alone in six days, working ten hours a day. The other one said he could finish the job alone in four days working ten hours a day. How long would it take the two men, working together, to get the job finished?

Maybe we're getting too easy. Stick around, we'll give you trouble yet!

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzle

The judge had to return a verdict of "not guilty" because Jane and Janet were Siamese twins and if Janet were punished the innocent Jane would suffer and that is against the law.

Have you any Twizzlers that might give fits to other readers? Send them to Brain Twizzlers in care of this paper.

posed of eight varieties. A fine stain glass window dates back to 1632. Many other windows add to the glory of the church. The first building dates back to 700 and at different periods was added to. All was completed in the 14th century. The first burial in the chapel was in the 12th century. We saw one tower perhaps the most conspicuous, called the Bell Tower. Every day at nine P. M. it rings 101 times and each student must be in by that hour, unless he has previously been given permission to remain out later.

To go back to gardens. I believe the ones connected with the St. James College are the most gorgeous. The flower beds were deep, in the edges of several blocks. The trees were wonderful; hundreds of years old were some of the evergreen oaks. The lawn was flawless after 400 years of care. The combination was something worth looking at. You most likely are tired hearing about cathedrals and will be glad when I get on another subject. So far this has been an educational tour for us and we have loved every bit of it.

This afternoon our party and many of the Oxford college students were guests of Sir Michael and Lady Sattler at their estate a few miles from Oxford. We had previously received engraved invitations from them upon our arrival in Plymouth. Nice refreshments were served. The affair was to have been a garden party, but the rain interfered. The host was so jolly and Lady Sattler was very hospitable. Their gardens were magnificent. The English guests were most cordial and we enjoyed ourselves immensely. Like most English estates the place is enclosed with a wall 10 to 12 feet high.

Have talked with a number of English people about the Duke of Windsor. Edward was at one time so very popular. It does not seem as if he could have lost all his friends. It was told that he had planned to knight so many of his friends. They were most objectionable; that list was scratched.

All of England is decorated. Every house, every store and public building. Everywhere we have been has been gay in colors and all sorts of decorations. London will be gorgeous and tomorrow we are going to see it. Can hardly wait now. I am so anxious to get your letters; surely there will be several.

We are wondering if we will see Miss Geisenheimer in London. Hope so. We sail from Havre, France, June 3.

London, England, May 11, 1937

We are all excitement for tomorrow is Coronation Day. We have left a call for 5 A. M. and hope to arrive in our reserved seats by 8:30. We will leave this hotel by 6 or 6:30. Some have to go by 4 o'clock. It depends where your seat is. The English speaking Union have very fine seats they tell us. We are hoping so. Our group are located in various hotels, about 15 here at Ichester Chambers. 'Tis three miles from our hotel to where our seats are on Oxford Circle, and such a thing is possible as having to walk, as the traffic will be terrific and cars hard to procure, and then there are numerous streets closed to cars. I hope you will be listening over the radio. I am sure you will.

It rained all day very hard and about 4 P. M. the sun came out shining brightly, so we hope for a fine day tomorrow. The E. S. Union group were shown through the House of Parliament this morning, a magnificent building. It is the oldest Parliament in the world. The large portion was burned and later rebuilt years ago. I did not catch the date. Mr. Bosson, M. P. (House of Commons), escorted the party through the different rooms. We went out on the great terrace overlooking the Thames.

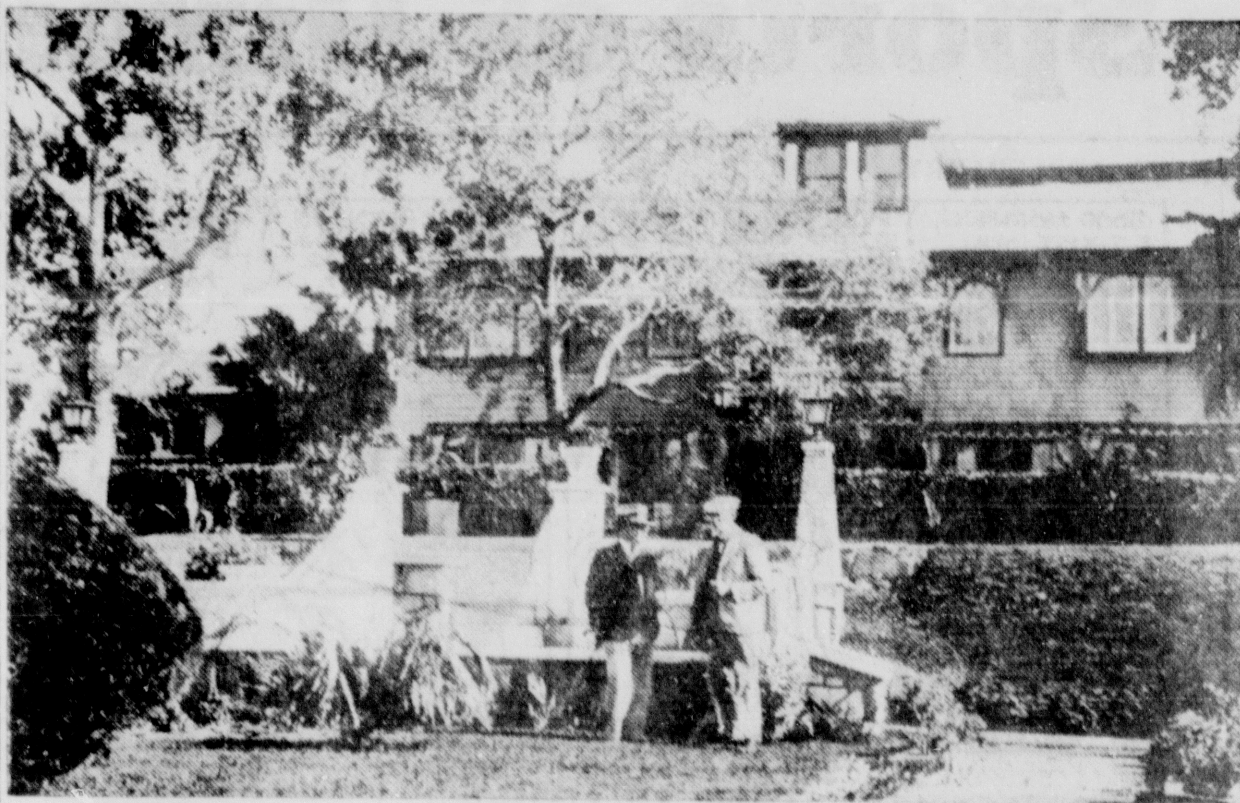

Long tables are placed at intervals and divided by a passage way in the center. One end is for members of the House of Lords and their guests; the other side for members of the House of Commons and their friends. Here on a hot day, Mr. Bosson said, they eat strawberries and cream. It was a delightful porch or terrace. The libraries contain thousands and upon thousands of books. In the first library members are permitted to talk as loud as they wish; in the second one not so loud; in the third one are not permitted to speak above a whisper, and in the fourth observe absolute silence.

We were shown the chamber. There are 615 members in the House of Commons. The press gallery is provided with 70 seats, and that is how the world receives the news from Parliament. In the House of Commons was reserved a seat in front of the clock for the Prince of Wales. The King is not allowed in the House of Commons. Saw the reserved seat for Nancy Astor, former American. It was the one next to our guide's seat.

The House of Lords has 800 members. They never all attend. The King always opens Parliament and his speech is always read. It is a great function, peers and peeresses in all their elegance. St. Stephen's Chapel is a marvel of beauty, built in 1097. It was burned in 1834 and rebuilt in its present style in 1852. While we were still in this very interesting place "Big Ben" pealed forth and Blanch got another thrill.

Our way out led us over the Albert Memorial bridge and on to Simpsons, one of the well known

WHERE BUSINESS TITAN'S LIFE CLOSED

The spectacular career of John D. Rockefeller, oil magnate and first American billionaire, drew to its close here in his spacious Florida villa at Ormond Beach. Long retired from active life, he chose this sun-drenched estate as his favorite dwelling place, and passed not only his winters but much of every spring there. Rockefeller was in his 98th year.

restaurants where we had lunch.

They do things different at Simpsons. If you want beef, a great joint is wheeled to your table, the huge silver cover removed and light there and then your meat is sliced and served together with Yorkshire pudding. For this you are supposed to slip a sixpence into the carver's pocket. We did.

Well, after our fun here we hurried in the rain to Madame Tussaud's exhibition of wax works, famous the world over. We spent several hours and considered the time well spent.

Good night. 'Tis 10:30 and I must get to bed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Weyrauch had the pleasure of a visit Friday from Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Graening of Waverly, Iowa. Dr. Graening was the Weyrauch's family physician when they resided in Waverly. Mr. and Mrs. William Halsey and daughter Nancy of Rochelle visited Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mead the past week end. Mr. and Mrs. Mead were also visited Sunday by the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shatwell of Rockford.

John Koper and Miss Ruth Miller motored to Peoria Sunday and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Nieman.

Miss Helen Beveridge of the Elmhurst high school faculty was home overnight Friday. The school will close next week for the summer vacation. Miss Beveridge has been engaged to teach there again next year.

Mrs. Gerald Fearer and infant daughter returned home Tuesday from Rockford city hospital.

Mrs. Joseph Horton and son Dick returned Sunday after spending two months with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wallace at Galveston, Texas. Mr. Horton accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Frank Horton of Mount Morris drove to Galveston to bring them home. Oregon friends will be pleased to know that Mr. and Mrs. Wallace are enjoying health and success. He is employed by a floral company and formerly operated the Oregon greenhouses here. They are very enthusiastic about Texas as a place of residence.

Mrs. Berndt Christensen left on Thursday for Worland, Wyoming, to visit her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Caraway and attend commencement exercises of the high school there, held Tuesday night. Her son Donald Christensen being a member of the graduating class. She will remain for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Myers entertained visitors Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huntley and family of Fortreston and Earl Fitzgerald of Rockford.

A chorus composed of vocal students of Jane Harris Stiles will give a concert tonight at the Lutheran church at Polo in the same program given here on the Gay-Lane Nite program.

Mrs. John Brader is convalescing from an operation performed Friday at St. Anthony's hospital in Rockford.

Miss Frances Wilmarth and grandfather, Charles Wilmarth were visitors Monday at the George Nichols home in Rockford.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wilde and family of Storm Lake, Iowa were visitors over the week end at the Albert Wilde and Earl Wilmarth homes. Earl McCamley of Omaha, Neb., was also a visitor Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilmarth.

Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Swingle and daughter Kathleen were in Freeport Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swingle and also visited Mrs. Swingle's sister, Mrs. Jacob Cordes who is under observation and treatment at the Deaconess hospital.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Carpenter were the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Hunter of Chicago, Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobson of Janesville, Wis. and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lindman of San Francisco, Calif. Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr and daughters were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Steinlagen in Forrester.

Misses Rhoda and Lila Carr were hostess Tuesday night to twelve guests at a bridge party.

Friends in this vicinity will regret to learn that Mrs. Gilbert Reed is a patient at the Rochelle hospital suffering a broken limb in a fall at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Worthington at Ashton. Because of her advanced age 87 years her condition is considered critical.

FRACTURE OF SKULL KNOCKS COCHRANE OUT

Hadley's Wild Pitch Puts Tiger Pilot in Hospital

New York, May 26—(AP)—Danger of infection of the sinuses caused added concern today as three physicians and surgeons sought to save the life of Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, Detroit baseball manager, who was struck in the right temple by a ball thrown by Irving (Bump) Hadley in yesterday's game against the New York Yankees.

Cochrane's condition was pronounced satisfactory in a bulletin issued this morning at St. Elizabeth's hospital but the danger of infection was noted. The bulletin read:

"Mr. Cochrane has a fracture of the skull and a mild cerebral concussion. At present he is comfortable and there are no indications for an operation. The fracture unfortunately connects with one of the sinuses and a possibility of infection is therefore being considered. His condition is satisfactory."

The bulletin was signed by Drs. Byron Stookey, Alexander Nicoli and Robert Emmet Walsh, who is staff physician for the Yankees.

Cochrane was "beamed" in the fifth inning of yesterday's game. With the count of three balls and two strikes, Hadley threw a high fast one. Cochrane attempted to duck but he appeared to fall in the path of the ball. He was knocked unconscious and carried to the dressing room on a stretcher and thence to the hospital.

Mrs. Cochrane took a plane from Detroit last night and arrived this morning.

It was later learned the Tiger manager has three fractures. During the night he suffered a slight hemorrhage and opiates were administered.

Physicians said it would be necessary to keep Cochrane absolutely quiet for at least 10 days, which means no operation will be performed in the meantime.

Had Hit Homer

In Cochrane's last previous time at bat in the game, which the Yanks won, 4-3, he had hit a home run.

The Yankees' physician, Dr. Robert E. Walsh, said there was no immediate danger of death.

Cochrane's nurses reported today that he spent a comfortable night, although he did not get much sleep.

Dr. Walsh said at 5:45 a. m. (CST) that Cochrane "was not any worse" but he declined to elaborate.

Mrs. Cochrane arrived early today by plane from Detroit.

Walter O. Briggs, Tiger owner, named Coach Del Baker acting manager of the team. Baker was manager last year when Cochrane was out of the game with illness.

Recall Chapman Death

Cochrane's injury is closest to a major league diamond fatality of this kind since another Yankee pitcher, Carl Mays, hit Ray Chapman, shortstop of the Cleveland Indians, at the Polo Grounds in 1920.

Ill health, injuries and hard luck have been Mike's constant companions since he started his brilliant career with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1925.

In 1931, at the height of his playing with the Athletics, sinus trouble and illness forced him from the game. Earlier in the season a foul tip had cracked him on the leg. But he came back, caught 122 games and hit 349.

Developed Infection

At Lakeland, Fla. in 1932 Mickey was operated on for an infection on his left foot. He caught 139 games that year for his most active season.

They thought Mickey had appendicitis in 1934. He fought it off and, as manager, led his new team, the Detroit Tigers, to their first American league championship since 1909. The next year the Tigers won another pennant and the world's championship.

Mickey is a throwback to the old type of manager, a constant and desperate fighter for whom no game is won or lost until the last man is out. Last year he worried and fought so hard it brought on an attack of hyper-thyroidism and he caught only 44 games.

As a player Mike has been one of the great catchers of his time, some say of all time. He is fast and he can hit. Since he broke in he has hit under 300 only four times, has compiled a 320 lifetime average. Twice he has been voted the most valuable player in his league.

FANS AWAITING BELOIT RELAYS START FRIDAY

Individual Stars In Dash- es Among Fine Field

With final preparations for the first annual Beloit Relays practically completed thousands of sport fans are awaiting the shot of the starter's gun at 7:30 Friday evening which will send the initial heats of the special 100 yard dash into action under the arclights of beautiful Walter Strong Memorial Stadium.

Louis Means, Beloit college athletic director and father of the Relays idea, revealed that among the outstanding sprinters already entered is Thea Gibbs, sensational colored boy from Dubuque university who has repeatedly run the distance in 9.8 seconds.

From Coe college will come three speed demons in Stookey, Wedgebury and Carson while Simpson college will send Alexander said to be one of the fastest century men in the middle west. Besides Wedgebury's speed in the 100 he will also anchor the Coe's mile relay team. In this role at the Midwest meet at Carleton he turned in a brilliant 49 quarter.

Sophomore Flash

An erratic but sometimes sparkling performer is Joe Graf, Lawrence's diminutive sophomore flash. He has run the distance in 9.9 and repeatedly in 10 flat. Beloit college's own hopes rest with Bill Sauer and Bob Gates while other leading competitors will be Van Scoy of Bradley, Heatt of North Central and Clark of Carroll.

Competition in the Relay events will be exceptionally well balanced. Simpson will send a crack 440 relay squad as will North Central and Lawrence. Carroll, Augustana, Lawrence, Beloit and North Central appear very strong in the 880 relay, while Coe, Cornell and North Central are early favorites in the mile relay.

Bradley, Lawrence and North Central have all entered strong teams in the medley relay as have Coe, Lawrence and Carroll in the 360 shuttle relay. Two special freshman relays in which no points will be awarded have been entered by Carroll, Cornell, Wheaton, Beloit and Lawrence.

TUNNEY TODAY

Although a bit stouter than when he was having it out with Jack Dempsey a decade ago, Gene Tunney remains a striking figure of a man. The retired champion will be 39 years old May 25. One reason his chest is out in this photograph is that he has just made a hole-in-one on the sixth or Cathedral hole of the No. 3 course at Pinehurst.

SOAP PLANT RAIDED

Chicago—(AP)—State's attorney's police raided a soap company plant, arrested nine men and confiscated about 25,000 cans of cleaning powder which Lieut. Thomas Kelly said was an imitation of a nationally advertised household cleaning product. Kelly said his men also seized counterfeit labels which were ready to be pasted on the cans.

THREATENS MANDATE

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Martin P. Durkin, state director of labor, threatened to issue a mandatory order placing laundry workers in Illinois on a 44-hour week Durkin who told downstate laundry owners at a conference that the order would be rigidly enforced if it were issued, said the industry had been working its employees 55 and 60 hours weekly.

SPEEDSTERS EYE WEATHER BEFORE 500-MILE RACE

Forecast of Local Thundershowers Worries Them

Indianapolis, May 26—(AP)—More than a score of the nation's leading speed merchants cast a hopeful eye at the weatherman today and tuned their powerful motors for the dizzy pace necessary for the remaining 15 positions in the 500-mile race here May 31.

The pilots were a bit jittery over a pessimistic forecast, "unsettled with probable local thundershowers." They were nervous because only nine scheduled qualification hours remained—six hours today and three Saturday.

Speedway officials hinted additional qualification hours might be added, but the time grew short.

Yet to wash the 25-mile test were such sterling drivers as Jimmy Snyder, Harry MacQuinn, Kelly Pettilo, Babe Stapp, Rex Mays and Sherry Carlton.

Snyder wheeled his roaring mount at an average speed of 130.492 miles an hour last Saturday to set an all-time 2 1/2 mile lap record, but failed to qualify because he did not complete the necessary 10 laps.

To be eligible for the big grind the cars must make 10 laps at 105 miles an hour or more and be one of the 33 fastest speedsters to qualify at any time during the test period.

RACINE YOUTH IN THIRD ROUND BRITISH MEET

Two Other Americans Also Qualified To Continue Play

Sandwich, Eng., May 26—(AP)—Wilford Wehrle, youngster from Racine, Wis., gained the third round of the British amateur golf championship today with a narrow 2 and 1 victory over K. V. Braddon of Great Britain.

Two other Americans, P. A. Valentine of Southampton, N. Y., and Robert Sweeney, New York youth who lives in London, also had qualified for the third round.

Valentine won from R. B. Foster, another American who lives in London, 2 and 1, while Sweeney ousted M. W. Budd of Great Britain, one up, J. C. Freshwater of Hollywood, Calif., was eliminated by C. P. Johnstone of Great Britain, 4 and 3 in the second round.

Sweeney just got home on the final green after a grim tussle with Budd. Sweeney five times was one up and won two holes on strokes.

Dick Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., disposed of his second opponent, Eric Chambers of Great Britain, by a convincing 5 and 4 margin.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)
Ted Lyons, White Sox—Scattered Senator's seven hits and gave only one base on balls to win first of season, 9-2.

Earl Averill, Indians—Had perfect day with double, two singles and walk as Cleveland nosed out Athletics 4-2.

Johnny Murphy, Yankees—Stopped Tigers with tying and winning runs on base in ninth to give Yanks 4-3 victory.

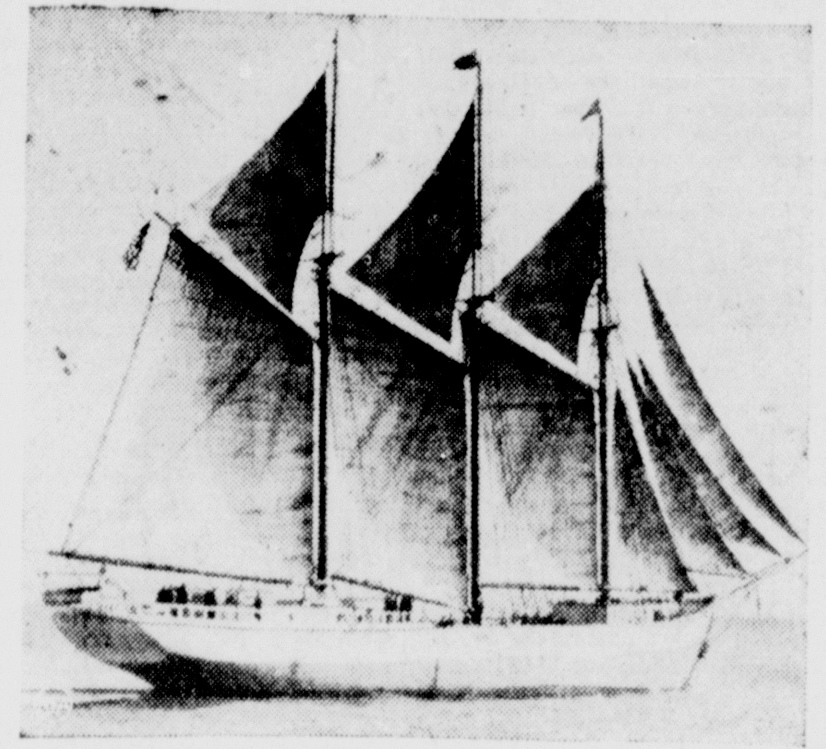

Bill Lee, Cubs—Held Phillies to one hit in five innings, struck out last man in ninth with tying run on base for 5-3 triumph.

Johnny McCarthy and Jimmy Rippe, Giants—Formers' homer, double and single, latters' double and two singles led way in 16-hit rout of Reds.

Van Mungo, Dodgers—Team-mate's three-base error cost him shutout as he scattered Pirates' six hits and fanned five for 2-1 win.

Fabian Gaffke, Red Sox—Hit triple and single and scored two runs in 4-2 defeat of Browns, 4-0.

Romance of Sailing Vessels Is Revived on Great Lakes

Under full sail, the three-masted schooner, J. T. Wing cuts the water out of Detroit in a single-handed revival of commercial sailing which brought joy to hearts of old hands on the Great Lakes. The J. T. Wing was routed to Neebish Island in the St. Mary's river to take on a pulpwood cargo for Green Bay, Wis. Its crew of six included youths sailing as apprentice seamen. Later, the J. T. Wing, 140 feet long, was to be used, during the lake season, as a training ship for boys.

ILLINOIS AFTER BASEBALL TITLE

Wildcats Can Prevent It By Defeating Illini Nine

Chicago, May 26—(AP)—Illinois' baseball warriors took on Northwestern today at Urbana, hoping for a share at least, of the 1937 Big Ten championship.

The Illini, undefeated since dropping their opening conference start to Ohio State, 5 to 1, April 23, faced the Wildcats today in their final battle, needing a victory to be certain of sharing the championship with Indiana. A victory would give Illinois a record of nine games won and one lost, and in the event Indiana drops a game to Ohio State Friday or Saturday in its final series, would mean a clear claim to the title for Illinois.

Capt. Hale Swanson was Illinois' likely pitching choice. Ray Post, sophomore sensation, has an injured arm.

John Gee, Michigan's towering righthander, achieved a no-hit, no-run masterpiece yesterday as the Wolverines defeated Hillsdale, Mich., college 3 to 0. Gee struck out 13 batsmen in holding Hillsdale while his mates bunched three singles off McIntosh with two errors in the sixth for all their runs.

Indiana scored a 5 to 4 decision over Butler in another non-conference tilt, and Purdue took a 6 to 1 beating from Notre Dame.

First Inter-City Match For Country Club Golf Team Booked Tomorrow

Dixon Country club golfers will engage in their first inter-club match of the season Thursday, when they journey to Morrison, the match to begin at 1:30 P. M. It is hoped a larger number of players will represent Dixon and insure victory.

CRITICIZED COLLEGES

Indianapolis, Ind.—(AP)—Prof. Marcus Lee Hansen of the University of Illinois made a plea to the national conference of social work for the establishment of a museum of social culture. He criticized universities which, he said, "will not spend a cent to send a man to the second hand store around the corner in search of documents and relics that will explain and illustrate the growth of American civilization x x x."

$1500 JUDGMENT

Chicago—(AP)—A judgment of $1,500 has been entered against Cornelius P. Van Schaack Jr., son of the late wholesale druggist, in settlement of a $50,000 assault suit filed at Champaign, Ill., in behalf of Peter Collier, Jr., 19. The youth's attorney said the case was settled after the trial started a month ago.

BUCS WORRIED OVER ADVANCE OF TERRYMEN

Van Mungo Subdues Pirates, Giants Plaster Reds

By BILL BONI

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates began to cast a few anxious glances back over their shoulders today. The Buccaneers, leading the National league race since the season started, didn't have any such worries as the Detroit Tigers, who were trying to recover from the shock of yesterday's serious injury to Manager Mickey Cochrane, but they took a few future peeks at the oncoming Giants.

When Van Lingle Mungo, Brooklyn's bad boy, fireballed the Pirates into 2-1 submission yesterday it was the third straight setback for Pie Traynor's crew. Previously the Bucs had managed to sandwich each of their few defeats between two victories. Mungo celebrating his release from suspension, drove home the winning run himself, and held the Bucs to six hits for his fifth victory.

Collects 16 Hits

The Giants scattered 16 hits all over the Cincinnati landscape to rout the Reds, 9-3, and gain their fourth successive triumph. As a result the New Yorkers, edging past the again-idle St. Louis Cardinals, were only two games behind Pittsburgh.

Detroit's loss of Cochrane, whose skull was fractured by a pitched ball thrown by Bump Hadley over-shadowed their loss of a single game, 4-3, to the Yankees.

Hadley failed to last, as in each of his other four starts, but the Yankee powerhouse widened its first place advantage in the American league to two games as the Athletics lost a 4-2 decision to Cleveland's Indians.

The Yanks' defeat of Detroit and Cleveland's victory over the Athletics left the last three teams closely bunched. The Tigers were third, a game and a half behind the Mack-men, and the Indians another half game back in fourth place.

The Red Sox, keeping their place at the head of the second division, handed the Browns their eighth defeat in nine starts, 4-2. The Chicago veteran, Ted Lyons, spacing the seven hits he yielded, pushed the White Sox ahead of Washington with a 9-2 trouncing of the Senators.

The Cubs kept pace with the Giants in their pursuit of Pittsburgh by beating the Phillies, 5-3. The Phils, whose starting pitchers haven't been able to finish one of their last five games, losing four, got eight of their nine hits and all their runs off Bill Lee in the last four innings. Wet grounds kept the Cards and Bees out of action.

TO CUT WPA ROLLS

Chicago—(AP)—Howard O. Hunter, Assistant Works Progress Administrator, said 27,000 relief workers in Illinois will be taken from the WPA payrolls by July 15, when the national list of relief workers was expected to be reduced 150,000. The cut in Illinois will leave 115,000 on the rolls. Hunter said the men were being urged to accept private employment.

WEST BROOKLYN

By Henry Gehant

School Picnics

The students of the high school, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Grever and Walter Mehlinger spent Saturday at Savanna and Clinton, Ia. At noon a picnic dinner was served. On the return trip the party stopped off at Dixon where they enjoyed a show in the evening. Students were William Long Jr., Stanley Daneakas, Francis Michel, Eleanor Walters, Lea Bieschke, Fay and Dorothy Gehant.

Miss Rita Henkel closed a successful year at the public school with a party at the school. At noon the children and their mothers were invited to a scramble dinner. The afternoon was spent in playing various games. Miss Henkel has been engaged to teach the lower grades again next year.

Ohio Man Tames Wild Rose
for Garden After 36 Years

New Yellow Climber, "Doubleblooms"

After 36 years of untiring effort, M. H. Horvath of Mentor, Ohio, has finally succeeded in "taming" the wild prairie rose for American gardens. Pictured above, "Doubleblooms," Mr. Horvath's new rose creation, combines the large blossoms, brilliant colors, form of bloom and fragrance of hybrid tea roses with the hardiness and disease resistance of the wild variety found so profusely along the countryside. This inheritance from the wild rose permits more growth from year to year to cover fences, walls or garages.

Named after the Spanish coins of early colonial days and introduced for the first time this year to flower lovers, "Doubleblooms" is the first of a race of yellow climbing roses to be known as the "Treasure Island" variety. Its wild rose ancestry and robust strain suggested a distinctly New World name, and Mr. Horvath selected "Doubleblooms" because of the large, deep yellow blossoms. The blooms are lasting and fragrant, appearing profusely in June and again about six weeks thereafter.

Ralph McMinn of Carbondale spent Sunday here visiting with former students and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Untz and Mr.

Since coming to America from Hungary in 1904, Mr. Horvath has worked in nurseries and was in charge of design and construction for the entire Cleveland park system for many years. During this long period every moment of his spare time was devoted to creating roses. Retiring in 1920, he has since devoted all his time to experimental work with roses. He has no flowers for sale and the money he receives from royalties is put into a fund which will be left as the nucleus for a national rose-testing garden for hybridizers of the future.

Italy Prepares to Fire on Its Foe

The flame-breathing dragons of fable had nothing on the latest creation of Italian military genius—flame-throwing tanks. Hideously menacing, its long fiery tongue stabbing serpent-like into the black cloud of smoke of its own creation, one of the new devices is pictured in action near Rome. That in the foreground affords a closeup view of the fuel tank and the nozzle that directs the stream of fire.

ROCHELLE NEWS

By ARTHUR T. GUEST

Rochelle—DL Chapter of P. E. O. held their annual party for the Bills at the Rochelle Town & Country Club, Monday evening. A steak dinner was served at 6:30 followed by a contract bridge. The table was beautifully decorated with large white tapers, white candle sticks, white vases which contained lemon yellow tulips and white lilies of the valley. High prize scores went to Mrs. C. E. Mollong and Howard A. Heron.

Seth W. Ewbank, who has been a Rochelle business man for the past twelve years, died at his home Saturday afternoon following a stroke.

He was born in Boylston, Indiana, in 1888, and except for about a year spent in Ohio he has resided in Rochelle since leaving his native state.

Mr. Ewbank married Mable King of Rochelle and she with their children survive him. The children are Lucille, Dorothy, Vivian, Clarence, Robert, George and Otis, who live in Rochelle, and William, who lives in California, and arrived in Rochelle Monday night to attend the funeral of his father.

Two sisters and one brother also survive: Jane and Bertha of Frankfort, Indiana, and a brother living in Van Buren, Ind.

Children by a previous marriage who also survive Mr. Ewbank are Raymond and Kenneth of Frankfort and Bessie who lives in Chicago. Funeral arrangements were to be made after the arrival of William Ewbank from California.

Mrs. Marea Houston, for many years a resident of Rochelle, passed away Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Murphy, of 215 South Third street. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church Sunday at 2:30, with Reverend Charles A. Hale in charge.

Dr. Walter E. Kittler was re-elected delegate to the American Medical association from the Illinois State Medical society at the annual meeting of the organization in Peoria last week.

The American Medical association meeting will be held in Atlantic City, New Jersey, from June 7 to June 11. Doctor Kittler and family will drive to Atlantic City, leaving Rochelle June 3. They expect to return within three weeks of their departure.

Announcement is made of the winners in the Poppy poster contest, which has been sponsored in Rochelle by the Auxiliary of the American Legion. Mrs. Wiley Owen, Poppy day chairman, was in charge of the contest and there was much interest shown by children of the upper grades of the three local schools. St. Patrick's, Central and Lincoln Judges found selection of prize winners most difficult, so well done were the posters this year.

Awards were made to Donald Schaller, first, and Robert Motlong, second, both of the sixth grade, and Mary Beth Eber, first, and Lauretta Mear, second, both of the seventh grade. Honorable mention was given to John Tigan, Marietta Caron, Emma Peterson, and Donald Gruben. Judges were Mrs. William Bouchard, Mrs. William Lux and Mrs. Adam Krug.

The posters will be exhibited in a downtown window this week. This year, many more entries were made in the contest and Mrs.

Owen and her committee are most grateful to the school children and their teachers for interest in this work.

John L. Argall, Spruce Acre, Rochelle, is a candidate for a diploma at the Culver Military Academy, where he is a senior and a member of Company A of the infantry battalion. He was a member of the varsity swimming team and has won several medals for excellence in military subjects. In the Culver Naval School last year he was Battalion Petty Officer and won the highest number of points in the senior aquatic meets held during the season.

Spring Lake is in readiness for the opening for the season on Memorial Day, May 31.

Pool equipment has been repaired and painted, the guard walls having received a new coat of paint and the pier floor has been covered with a new mat. The building which houses the recreation room and confectionery as well as the dressing rooms, has been completely redecorated.

Shrubbery has been trimmed, the grass has been mowed and additional sand has been placed on the banks. Over 20,000 used the pool last year and $600 was earned.

Correct Spelling
Of "Plebeian" Wins
National Honors

Washington, May 26—(AP)—The correct spelling of "plebeian," pertaining to the common people, gave Waneeta Beckley, 14-year-old Louisville, Ky., girl the national spelling championship and $500.

Waneeta spelled the word correctly after her finalist opponent, Betty Grunstra, tiny, 55-pound Clifton, N. J., girl, spelled it "plebeian."

Waneeta then spelled "promiscuous" for good measure and was declared winner of the contest, which is sponsored by daily newspapers in the nation's elementary and junior high schools.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

Latexes are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. See

I'LL OIL-PLATE
YOUR ENGINE

Nobody but a Conoco Mileage Merchant like me can Oil-Plate your engine, because nobody else can change you to Conoco Germ Processed oil. There's a patent on it. The Germ Process is not like all the processes that "take away" from an oil—sort of like making skim milk. Instead of that, after the oil is refined in every right way, something altogether extra is put in Germ Processed oil. This is a great discovery, because then a genuine plating of oil is able to form in your engine. If you would imagine a slippery skin of oil really grown to every working surface—and not just floating around—that's a picture of Oil-Plating. A plating can't flow down while your car is parked, so you won't punish your Oil-Plated engine doing all the stopping and starting you please. Or if you're hitting a pace all day—maybe even pulling a trailer up the mountains—it does not make Oil-Plating rub away. That's letting you out of all the worst wear, at the same time that your Conoco Germ Processed oil is saving you quart after quart.

Senior Play To Be Presented

For sheer entertainment the senior play "And Home Came Ted" will be presented on this coming Friday night, May 28, at 7:45 at the Camp Grounds, is just about tops. It is a fast-moving, witty comedy that has a real plot and a real mystery. It is a full evening's entertainment and will keep you interested all of the time. It has some very real thrills, as well as several love affairs. To make it even more interesting, it has twelve characters and not one of them is a poor part.

The actors all enjoy their parts and are interested, and will do their very best to make the play a success. It is as big a production as has been attempted here for a long time. We are sure that you will not regret having come, and can promise you a pleasant evening.

We shall expect you, then, on Friday evening, at the Camp Grounds at 7:45. Remember May 28 is the date. Please do not miss the only presentation of "And Home Came Ted."

Reception Thursday Evening

The members and friends of the Presbyterian church will hold a reception Thursday evening, May 27 for their new pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Louis Grafton.

A program of music and short talks by several will be the main feature of the evening. Refreshments will be served. Everyone is invited.

Peonies Coming Out

Mrs. Rose Senger tells us that her peonies are showing much red these days and with warm weather she will have plenty of peonies for her trade. If you are out for a walk Sunday afternoon, go to her home and see the beautiful peonies. You will be well repaid.

Contract is Let

The contract for the community house and gym was given Saturday evening by the school board to the Lindquist Construction Company of Dixon, bid being $25,600. The American Foundry Company of Bloomington will install the furnace, and H. A. Dierdorff of this place has the plumbing contract. The building will be as originally planned. The directors are doing just what they believe to be the best for the community, and we know that we will have a building on the school grounds to be proud of.

Digging in the Departments

For the seniors, classes will be over on Friday, May 28. Already in the sociology class the course has been closed by the semester exam. We are now studying outside material from special sources on problems not covered in detail before. It is now thought that sociology will be made a one-semester course next year instead of a two-semester course.

In the home ec. department the girls are finishing their course by studying fabrics. They are collecting and analyzing samples of materials in order to become familiar with them by name and to learn their derivation.

The commercial geography class made its trip to Chicago last Tuesday.

The biology students are making frequent field trips to nearby groves, etc. in search of specimens of tree leaves and to study trees and birds. They are glad to be able to get out-of-doors some of the time in this kind of weather.

The last of this week and the first of next week are specially reserved for semester exams in general. All must make one last effort and then the school year will be closed.

Miss Bernadine Carrington who is employed in Dixon spent the week end with her parents.

Mrs. William Helman and Billy were callers at the Anna McCoy home Friday.

On Sunday, May 30, the annual Orphan Day celebration will take place in Freeport and will be marked by a solemn pontifical mass and will be followed by the procession of the blessed sacrament. In this general gathering of the faithful at the Diocesan orphanage, His Excellency will offer the Pontifical mass for His Holiness in conjunction with the nation wide eighteenth birthday celebration of our beloved Pontiff.

Pontifical mass by His Excellency Most. Rev. Edward P. Hoban, bishop of Rockford, will begin at 11 o'clock, central standard time. His Excellency will be assisted by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. J. Burns, V. G., assistant priest; Rt. Rev. Msgr. C. F. Conley and Rev. Rev. Msgr. A. F. Hienzi, deacon of honor. Rev. N. J. Berg, deacon of the mass, Rev. A. S. McIsaac, sub-deacon of the mass. Very Rev. Francis J. Conrow will be the master of ceremonies and Rev. J. M. Egan, assistant master.

Very Rev. William J. McMillion will deliver the sermon on the papacy. The Corpus Christi procession through the orphanage grounds will follow the Pontifical mass. After mass a plate luncheon will be served. The refreshment committee has arranged to take care of a large number of guests. Parking facilities have been amply provided for. The following chairmen have been appointed to handle preparations for Orphan day: Rev. D. R. Daly, general chairman; Rt. Rev. Msgr. C. F. Conley, food and refreshments; Very Rev. Msgr. A. A. Hienzi, publicity; Rev. N. J. Berg, decorations; Rev. A. S. McIsaac, reception; Rev. J. M. Dording, entertainment; Rev. J. M. Reagan parking. It is hoped that a large delegation from the parish will attend as it is on this occasion that His Excellency Rt. Rev. Edward P. Hoban, bishop of Rockford, will impart the papal blessing to which a plenary indulgence is attached.

A federal fish hatchery covering 108 acres will be built at Uvalde, Tex., Vice President Garner's home town. The hatchery will cost about $100,000.

A FAMOUS DOCTOR

A young man the practiced medicine in 72. After moving to Buffalo, N. Y., he gave to the drug trade (nearly 70 years ago) Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Women who suffer from "irregularities and disorders" should try this tonic. It stimulates the appetite and this in turn increases the making of food, helping to rebuild the body. Buy now. BETTER ACT SOON TO GET MOTORING'S BIGGEST MONEY'S WORTH!

AMERICA'S OUTSTANDING money's worth, the Packard 120—a big, luxurious straight-eight. It brings you Packard's "double-life"—both lasting identity and long mechanical life.

The Packard 120 Touring Sedan for five passengers

MOST PEOPLE who have made a study of motor cars will tell you that today's biggest dollar value is the Packard 120.

Today you can get this big, roomy straight-eight Packard—a real Packard inside and out, with Packard's characteristic long mechanical life and Packard's enduring identity—at an astonishingly low price.

But—this season may be your last chance to buy so much fine car for so little money!

For, with the cost of labor and materials already at much higher levels, increased prices for cars seem inevitable. It is only because Packard has been unusually well equipped to build cars economically that we've been able to give you such a sensational value for so long.

So—our earnest advice is, come in and drive the Packard 120 now. You'll find it offers genuine and thrilling Packard performance and quality. You'll see figures which will open your eyes to the ease with which the car can be bought—and you'll see proof that the Packard 120 is without doubt the most economical car of its size in America to operate!

But please don't put it off too long if you want to save yourself money!
